DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed July 19, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Oscar Mp3 Player, as taught by Kurpiers, teaches that the playlist is copied to the optical media with the mp3 files in their original structure (see the caption of Fig. 3, p 41, and see p. 42). Kurpiers teaches "When creating an MP3 CD, it is best to save the playlist in the lowest directory level, together with the MP3 files.", and he also teaches "In fact, they may be selected via a dedicated menu option (Playlists on CD)." Kurpiers is teaching a method of burning the mp3 and playlist files to a CD. For clarity, it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to have combined Robbin and Kurpiers for the purpose of managing a large amount of songs in one media. Kurpiers teaches the general problem in the first paragraph on page 40, "... After all, an MP3 CD may contain over one hundred tracks." The motivation for using playlists is well-known; They make it possible to playback songs out of order, possibly playback songs by different artists, or perhaps playback one specific album. It is obvious to one skilled in the art that playlists reduce the amount of user interaction when playing back select tracks from hundreds of tracks. These well-known advantages provide the motivation for combining a media player interface that allows the creation of CD's with a CD player that has the capability to play playlists stored on a CD.
2. The rejections of claims 1-26 are maintained, see the previous Office Action mailed March 15, 2005.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
